Accounting Firm Opts for Cut-Over at Busiest Time of Year: Tax Time

Client: New Jersey accounting firm with seven employees and two offices.

THE CHALLENGE

Accounting firm utilized VPN for their tax packages as well as running Quickbooks, their accounting software program. Over time they found the VPN process to be tedious as well as inefficient. Frustrations from clients led them to seek solutions to the challenges that worsened each tax season. They chose to remedy their situation directly before the approaching tax season. Time was not on their side.

THE SOLUTION

ITS NYC proposed moving the firm away from the VPN and away from the known associated security vulnerabilities. Implementation was structured to set up and deploy our Cloud WVD solution in under two weeks which was managed with a smooth cutover. Project Managed all the way, all software and data was migrated to a more seamless and secure environment.

THE BENEFIT

The accounting firm utilizes an infrastructure they desperately needed to securely manage tax preparation for multitude of clients without the past frustrations experienced with the lagging troubles of working through their VPN network.
